

September Newsletter

I'd like to start this September newsletter, with a big " Thank you " to all my Chiquitos Families as our Grandparents day was a complete success. All the grandparents had the opportunity to participate and be hand on the different activities set up for the day. Everyone enjoyed making playdough, baking cupcakes, reading stories and teaching the children to play croquet. Grandparents' day encouraged children to think about the value of the grandparents in their life and encourage them to day " thank you" .

We also celebrate " book week" big thank you to all families once again for sending your children favourite book and let us join the " Book week" at Miranda Library. They did a fantastic job role playing different stories. They even invited me to participate and be one of the main characters in one of the stories. And big thank you to Miranda Library for open your doors and celebrate book week for us and other educators only
